

2008 21 GRAMS

Walla Walla Valley | 110 Cases Produced

$125 WINERY RETAIL

21 Grams has historically had a large proportion of Cabernet Sauvignon, finished off by Cabernet Franc and Malbec. Four years in a row, the Cabernet Sauvignon from Cold Creek has stood above the rest and provided the base of the wine.

THE 2008 VINTAGE

For 2008, the Merlot lot from Seven Hills and Petit Verdot lot from Sagemoor were so stellar they demanded their way into the blend. The final breakdown is 76% Cabernet Sauvignon, 14 % Merlot and 10% Petit Verdot, sourced from Cold Creek, Seven Hills, Sagemoor, Portteus, Va Piano and Phinney Hill. Continuing their dedication to producing the highest-quality wine possible for 21Grams, both Waters and Gramercy have recently added new, elite vineyard sources to the mix.

TASTING NOTES

The 2008 vintage delivers the refined, smooth and balanced wine we have come to expect from 21 Grams. However, there are subtle differences as this vintage is more bold and upfront, with a fullness of herb and spice more intense than in the past. Earth, cedar and a sweetness of brown sugar and cooked caramel apples dominate the aromatics. Dark fruits explode alongside notes of green olive, clove and cardamom with a smooth finish.
